

COOKIE POLICY

The use of session cookies is strictly related to the optimisation of website browsing and is solely intended to ensure the best possible user experience. Other websites that may be linked to from this site could use tracking systems that are outside the control of the website owner.

COOKIES

To make our website easier to use and more intuitive, we make use of cookies. Cookies are small data files that allow us to distinguish between new and returning visitors and to understand how users navigate through our website.

The information collected through cookies is used to improve the browsing experience and enhance our services for future visits.

Cookies do not record personally identifiable information, and any identifiable data will not be stored without the appropriate consent where required.

If you wish to disable cookies, you can do so by changing your browser settings, deleting existing cookies or enabling a warning message whenever cookies are stored on your device.

By continuing to browse this website without changing your browser settings, you acknowledge the use of cookies as described in this policy.

TYPES OF COOKIES WE USE

Necessary Cookies

These cookies are essential for the proper functioning of the website and allow users to navigate the site and use its features, such as accessing secure areas or completing online forms.

Without these cookies, certain services requested by users may not be available.

Performance Cookies

These cookies collect information about how visitors use a website, such as which pages are visited most frequently or whether error messages are generated during navigation.

The information collected by these cookies is aggregated and anonymous and is used exclusively to improve the functionality and performance of the website.

By using our website, you agree that these cookies may be installed on your device.

Functionality Cookies

These cookies allow the website to remember choices made by users, such as language preferences, geographic region or other browsing settings, providing enhanced and personalised features.

They may also be used to remember changes made to text size, fonts and other customisable elements of the website.

In addition, these cookies may be used to provide services requested by the user, such as viewing videos or interacting with specific website functionalities.

The information collected through these cookies may be anonymised and cannot be used to track browsing activity across other websites.

By using our website, you agree that these cookies may be installed on your device.
